

Theoretical investigation of positronic molecules

Johan Galindo, Sergio Gonzalez and Andrés Reyes
Department of Chemistry, Universidad Nacional - Colombia

We have studied the electronic, nuclear and positronic charge densities of molecular systems containing hydrogen isotopes and positrons. We have also investigated on the effects of inter-particle correlation on structure and energetics.

Our calculations have been carried out with the newly developed APMO/MP2 code which implements the any particle molecular orbital method.